

If you are a fan of

STRANGER THINGS

then try one of these great titles:

Arclight by Josin McQueen: Marina has no memory when she is rescued, but when one of the Fade infiltrates Arclight, she begins to unlock secrets she never knew she had.

The Boy Who Drew Monsters by Keith Donohue: Jack Peter spends his time drawing monsters. When those drawings take on a life of their own, no one is safe from the terror they inspire.

Something Wicked This Way Comes by Ray Bradbury: Cooger & Dark's Pandemonium Shadow Show has come to Green Town, Illinois. And two boys will discover the secret of its smoke, mazes, and mirrors; and will know all too well the heavy cost of wishes . . .

Firestarter by Stephen King: Charlie inherited pyrokinetic powers from her parents, who had been given a low-grade hallucinogen called "Lot Six" while at college. Now the government is trying to capture young Charlie and harness her powerful firestarting skills as a weapon.

House of Secrets by Chris Columbus: Cordelia, Brendan, and Eleanor Walker must rely on a mysterious book to face the Wind Witch and the Storm King, who have kidnapped Dr. and Mrs. Walker and brought them to a strange world of magic.

STRANGER THINGS

Cemetery Boys by Heather Brewer: Stephen's dad says they're moving. They're broke from paying Mom's hospital bills, and now the only option left is to live with Stephen's grandmother in a backward small town that's like something out of The Twilight Zone.

Wolf by Wolf by Ryan Gaudin: The year is 1956, and the Axis powers of the Third Reich and Imperial Japan rule. To commemorate their Great Victory, they host the Axis Tour: an annual motorcycle race across their conjoined continents.

The Darkest Minds by Alexandra Bracken: Ruby is one of the dangerous ones. She survived the mysterious disease that killed most of America's children, but she emerged with frightening abilities she cannot control.

Pandemonium by Daryl Gregory: In the 1950s, ordinary people are possessed by entities that many call demons. Possessed Del Pierce maybe the key, but for him, the cure may be worse than the disease.

The Girl with all the Gifts by Mike Carey: When they come for her, Sergeant keeps his gun pointing at her while she is strapped into a wheelchair. She thinks they don't like her. She jokes that she won't bite, but they don't laugh. Melanie is a very special girl.

Night Film by Marissa Passl: When the daughter of a cult horror film director is found dead, investigative journalist Scott McGrath, probes into the very strange circumstances of the young woman's death.
